

Archives of Emergency Medicine

December 1993, Vol. 10, No. 4, pp. 265-390

Contents

A. D. CUMMING Special article. The role of calcium in intravenous fluid therapy	265
J. HEYWORTH, T. W. WHITLEY, E. J. ALLISON JR. & D. A. REVICKI Correlates of work-related stress among consultants and senior registrars in accident and emergency medicine	271
J. HEYWORTH, T. W. WHITLEY, E. J. ALLISON JR. & D. A. REVICKI Predictors of work satisfaction among SHOs during accident and emergency training	279
S. P. MICHAEL & A. BANERJEE Pseudo-dislocation of the shoulder in a child	289
A. NIGAM, A. GONI, A. BENJAMIN & A. R. DASGUPTA The value of radiographs in the management of the fractured nose	293
G. W. MCGARRY & C. MOULTON The first aid management of epistaxis by accident and emergency department staff	298
H. R. GULY Fractures of the terminal phalanx presenting as a paronchymchia	301
A. M. HUGGON & D. P. WATSON Use of anti-D in an accident and emergency department	306
H. DAYA & D. WIJETUNGE Oesophageal perforation: an unusual complication of a hypoglycaemic episode	310
J.-A. CLYMA & G. LANCASTER Computer-aided diagnosis of abdominal pain: implementation difficulties in the North Western region	314
W. G. RYAN Calcific tendonitis of flexor carpi ulnaris: an easy misdiagnosis	321
M. HUNT & E. E. GLUCKSMAN Ainhum presenting to the accident and emergency department	324
A. D. REDMOND & N. BUXTON Consultant triage of minor case in an accident and emergency department	328
J. D. HOWELL & N. G. KIRBY The storage of tetanus vaccine in accident and emergency departments: a postal survey	331
S. MICHAEL & A. BANERJEE Apparent tendo achilles rupture in the elderly: is routine radiography necessary	336
G. M. LORD & N. MENDOZA Spontaneous spinal epidural haematoma: a cautionary tale	339
F. AITCHISON, A. BLEETMAN, P. MUNRO, D. MCCARTER & A. W. REID Detection of pneumothorax by accident and emergency officers and radiologists on single chest films	343
J. R. THOMPSON & M. A. LAMBERT Chronic persistent asthma presenting to an accident and emergency department: compliance with B.T.S. guidelines	347
D. S. M. HADDEN, C. H. DEARDEN & G. ROSS Special article. Mixed sex wards: a survey of patients' opinions	354
M. J. WILLIAMS & G. JOHNSON Accreditation: the trainee's dilemma	357
M. V. PRESCOTT Hospital hoppers: jumping to conclusions	362
D. C. GRAY Labelling of equipment dispensers	365
M. W. COOKE & R. E. FERNER Chemical burns causing systemic toxicity	368
J. C. HUGHES, M. McCABE R. J. EVANS Intracranial haemorrhage associated with ingestion of 'Ecstasy'	372
M. A. JOHNSTONE & W. M. TULLETT Adder ( vipera berus ) bites: a case report and review of the management for emergency medical personnel	375
Letters to the Editor
A. SIVAKUMAR, D. WALLIS & P. S. J. B. RANA Identification of incorrect radiological diagnosis	380
M. SEDGWICK Reduction of anterior dislocation of the shoulder	380
J. M. HOPPER & K. M. PORTER Portable CO <sub>2</sub> detectors	382
K. M. PORTER The effect of the Cornwall and Isles of Scilly helicopter ambulance unit on the ambulance services ability to deliver acutely traumatized patients to hospital	382
A. F. T. BROWN, S. J. DUNJEEY & C. T. MYERS Management of the moribund carbon dioxide victim	383
A. K. MAITRA Computer-aided diagnosis of abdominal pain	384
A. SEN & I. ANDERSON Foley catheter haemostasis for penetrating cardiac wounds: the need for caution	385
F. DRUMMOND ATLS courses	386
B. C. K. PATEL Emergency eye care in the accident and emergency department	387
A. MAITRA & C. CHIKHANI Waiting times and patient satisfaction in the accident and emergency department	388
Erratum	390
Author and Subject Index	i

BLACKWELL SCIENTIFIC PUBLICATIONS

Oxford London Edinburgh Boston Melbourne
Berlin Paris Vienna
Printed in Great Britain by Bell & Bain Ltd, Glasgow

